TRAINING COURSE FOR JUDGES ON COMPETITION LAW The Enforcement of Competition Law in Times of Crisis

Porto Faculty of Law, Universidade Católica Portuguesa is organizing a Training Course for Judges on Competition Law to be held in July 2022. It is funded by the European Commission and supported by CEJ (Centre for Judicial Studies).

Coordinator: Professor Sofia Oliveira Pais (spais@ucp.pt)

Target Audience: Portuguese, Spanish and Polish judges.

Vacancies:

- 20 Portuguese judges (14 Auditors; 3 Judges from the Competition Court; 3 Judges from the Court of Appeal)
- 5 for Spanish judges
- 5 for Polish judges

Participant selection will be conducted based on inscription order.

Goals:

Competition law can play a crucial role in times of economic disruption. The stage of recovery after the COVID-19 crisis and the economic recession will only be possible with an adequate enforcement of competition policy. This training course aims to provide national judges with intensive and in-depth training on competition issues, taking into account the latest policies and initiatives of the European Commission and the recent case law of the Court of Justice, representing a significant renewal in EU rules.

Language: English

Important dates:

- 30th April - Registration deadline
- 2nd May - Notification of admission
- 16th May - Provision of the online campus access key
- 25th May - Preparatory meeting through videoconference/audioconference
- 7th-8th July - Seminar (only for judges)
- 9th July - International Conference (open session)

Participation is free, subject to mandatory registration and subsequent authorization (according to national rules).

Porto Faculty of Law, Universidade Católica Portuguesa, supported by the European Commission, will cover the following costs:

- Plane or train tickets from the participant's departure city to Oporto (up to a certain limit);
- Accommodation, meals and hosting as mentioned in the Programme.

Costs resulting from registration cancelation will not be covered. In that case, trip and accommodation costs will be covered by the candidate that cancelled the registration in the training course.
